The trial lawyers at A&K are nationally-recognized for their success in “Bet the Company,” commercial, environmental and insurance litigation on behalf of public sector and private clients, and we are well known in the local community for our vast municipal litigation experience. We are respected by our clients for our knowledge, experience, commitment, efficiency, passion and creativity; by our opponents, for our tenacity; and by the courts, for our integrity and forceful advocacy.

We represent in litigation business corporations, governmental entities including state agencies, municipalities, and airports across the country, and individuals. We often put our skills to work for pro bono clients who are seeking to protect the environment or civil rights and civil liberties.
