As Town Counsel to the Towns of Acton, Belmont, Concord, Dover, Duxbury Ipswich, Lexington and Wrentham, our Real Estate Department deals frequently with land planning and conservation matters, including multi-party transactions intended to accomplish conservation objectives.

We often work with private clients to develop ownership structures for family properties that take into account the goals and interests of several generations of family members. A recent example of this work is our representation of a Carlisle property owner in a conservation transaction that resulted in the preservation of the majority of his property abutting the Charles River.
