White Collar Defense

Anderson & Kreiger's White Collar Defense team is led by Carmen M. Ortiz, former United States Attorney. Our team has extensive experience and firsthand knowledge of how government agencies conduct investigations and prosecutions, and that experience helps us to develop innovative solutions to challenging problems. Our team also works with clients to develop plans to respond to a crisis both inside and outside of the courtroom. If needed, our team is qualified to defend simultaneous criminal, civil, and regulatory matters.
